ANNA LIZAK

I have been given the incredible chance to join the RC Mission Corps for a year, and I am filled with both gratitude and anticipation.

Currently, I am a third-year Biology student at St. Mary's University, with aspirations to continue in the Education program. My time at university has been marked by involvement as a Student Ambassador and running on the StMU Cross Country Team. However, what truly brings me joy is connecting with fellow students through campus ministry. Being able to share my faith and support others on their spiritual journey is a privilege I hold dear.

Beyond the university campus, I am actively involved in my Ukrainian Catholic home parish. There, I have been blessed with opportunities to work with children and youth, guiding them in their faith formation. Additionally, I serve in the choir ministry, lifting my voice in praise and worship. These experiences have enriched my spiritual life and deepened my love for the Catholic community.

Now, the RC Mission Corps offers me a chance to expand my horizons even further. This program will allow me to dedicate a year of my life to serving others. It presents an opportunity to grow in my faith, develop leadership skills, and engage in meaningful outreach initiatives. I am excited to be part of a community that shares my passion for the Gospel and strives to make a positive impact in the world.
